

RECONCILIATION GROVE PROJECT

TREES FOR TRUTH | TREES FOR MEMORY | TREES FOR HOPE

RECONCILIATION is about working together to achieve a fundamental shift in the way we perceive and interact with each other for the benefit of everyone in Canada. Bridging a pathway of closure to the legacy of residential schools lies at the heart of reconciliation between First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples who attended these schools, their families and communities, and all Canadians.

Landscape Ontario's Reconciliation Grove Project puts reconciliation into action. Through its members, Landscape Ontario will connect with every school in Ontario to plant a grove of three trees — one for truth, one for memory and one for hope.

Through these symbolic trees, our goal is to provide students with a space to recognize the National Day of Truth and Reconciliation on September 30th each year.

TREES FOR TRUTH

An evergreen, honouring survivors of the Indian Residential School system ensures their stories are never forgotten.

TREES FOR MEMORY

Deciduous, with fall colour. Planted in memory of children who were victims of the Indian Residential School system, including First Nations, Inuit and Métis people.

TREES FOR HOPE

A wildlife-friendly tree, spring blooming, representing hope for a better, brighter future of reconciliation with Canada's First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples.
