

Join Keith Wiley and explore a style of gardening based on modifying natural landscapes from around the globe.

Keith Wiley

Over 25 years as head gardener at the Garden House in Devon, Keith evolved a style of gardening based on modifying natural landscapes from around the globe. The garden he created was described by national commentators as, "... one of the most exciting and innovative gardens in Britain today [and the best example of] leading-edge horticulture in this country."

Keith, an author and lecturer, is a regular contributor to horticultural and lifestyle magazines and has appeared on many gardening television programs in the UK. The Wileys now run their own nursery and are creating a new garden that was recently featured in RHS magazine, as well as many other publications.

ON THE WILD SIDE: Inspiration for design

LANDSCAPE INDUSTRY PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP

Friday, September 14;
8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at RBG Centre
Fee: $235, lunch included

A special professional development workshop for landscapers, landscape architects, designers and others interested in naturalized gardening techniques. Delve deeper into the intricacies of design and construction with Keith Wiley, owner and operator of Wildside Nursery, UK. Keith shares his design philosophy which was derived from local nature and around the world.

Small group size and hands-on exercises led by an international expert provide a unique opportunity to develop your skills in this growth area in landscape design. Topics include:

- On the wild side — an experiment in new naturalism
- Designing with woodland plants
- Gardens don't have to be all green
- Taking naturalistic planting to a new level
- Use of colour: tans, ochres, and russets to highlight the natural backdrop

"By allowing our observations of natural landscapes to shape our plantings, it can loosen the strait-jacket that long-established horticultural practices impose."

— Keith Wiley

- A certificate of attendance is provided.
- A list of supplies is sent to you at registration.
